

What is a „running mate“?

At the national convention the presidential candidate chooses a running mate. He or she might be the future vice president.

What are the 2 leading US parties?

- Republicans and Democrats.
- Republicans are conservative, Democrats more liberal.

What are the general elections?

US citizens in every state all around the country vote for one president (and vice president).

When are the general elections?

On the 3rd November 2020. It is always the first Tuesday in November. Elections occur quadrennially.